Adjusted forecast NOI yield (right side) is calculated as adjusted forecast NOI divided by acquisition price (avg. expected NOI yield is the weighted average ratio on an acquisition price basis).
2. Occupancy rate is the proportion of the area leased to tenants as of June 30, 2018 to total leasable area as of the same date.
3. "RoFL" refers to the right of first look, which is a contractual right that obliges the sponsor to provide information about sales of properties of GLP Group to GLP J-REIT and undergo exclusive good faith negotiations with GLP J-REIT before negotiating with other parties. The sponsor has no obligation to sell any properties subject to GLP J-REIT's right of first look.
4. "JV Fund" refers to a GLP fund property, which is owned by GLP Group through a GLP fund and managed by GLP Group, or planned to develop, operate and manage by GLP group or through GLP funds on the land held by GLP Group as a site for logistics facilities.

GLP shows a strong presence amid the offering boom

-----< Excerpt from DealWatch / Thomson Reuters >-----

Unit prices of logistics REITs remain sluggish. In addition to anxiety about oversupply of logistics facilities, there are concerns over offerings. In August, there was a flurry of public offerings conducted by logistics REITs, adding more downward pressure on unit prices. Under such circumstances, however, GLP J-REIT (GLP) demonstrated its strong presence in the market by raising JPY 46.1bn through a public offering. Analysts attribute GLP's successful offering to expectations that the REIT will grow on the back of continued rent increases and a robust pipeline of properties

(omitted)

During its roadshow, GLP held meetings and telephone conferences with 90 investors. The REIT conducted bookbuilding to allocate 55%, 15%, and 30% of units to retail investors, domestic institutional investors, and foreign investors, respectively. As a result, the conversion ratio for retail investors, domestic institutional investors, and foreign investors was c. 7x, c. 2.5x, and over 10x, respectively. The average conversion ratio was c. 8x. Investors deemed GLP to be attractive based on its declining unit price. Its DPU yield is around 4.5%

2. NAV per unit for 76 properties is the estimation based on results as of the end of Aug 2018, the unrealized gain on properties acquired on September 3, 2018 and the public offering and third-party allotment conducted in Sep 2018

Supply and vacancy rates in logistics facilities

Source: CBRE, GLP J-REIT

- Based on data for leasable logistics facilities nationwide with 5,000 sqm or more of gross floor area
- New supply is the area of newly built leasable logistic facilities (leasable area basis). Figures for July 2018 and onwards are estimates by CBRE
- Net absorption refers to changes in occupied floor area. Changes in occupied floor area are calculated by subtracting tenant withdrawal floor area from floor space under new agreements. Rates for 2018 are based on the agreements closed as of June 30, 2018
- Vacancy is leasable area basis. Nationwide occupancy rate for properties built over one year ago are listed as of Dec-end month for each year.
- (Up to 2012) Based on the properties owned by GLP group as of the end of March of each year (however; among the 30 properties owned by GLP J-REIT as of the end of January 2013)

Internal growth – Source of GLP's internal growth

Continuous internal growth regardless of property type and building age

From the beginning of the 2000s, secured favorable location through various acquisition methods such as development and external acquisition

2000s: the dawn of modern logistics facilities

2010s: Number of players started to surge

- Especially rare advanced logistics properties which are (1) close to large consumption areas, (2) relatively large among advanced logistics properties and (3) designed to be used by multiple tenants. The properties can be used for delivery of several types of packages, and they also have the following three features: ① location advantage, ② high functionality and ③ high tenant retention rate
- "Average rent increase rate" for renewed leases or new lease contracts with no downtime, are calculated as follow: rent increase rate before each contract execution, multiplied by each rentable area, divided by the aggregated rentable area of all contracts. Monthly rents numbers in the lease agreements are used in the calculation (free-rents are not considered). The ages of each of the properties (except the Flagship properties) are the numbers as of the end of the fiscal period of when each new/renewed contract was executed
- "Average utilization rates since IPO" are calculated as the weighted average of the utilization rates of each categories from the time of IPO to August 2018, to the total rentable area by the end of August 2018
- Properties marked "GLP Dev't" are those developed by GLP Group (incl. those developed by development funds), properties marked "Acquisition" are those acquired from third parties (excluding S&LB), and properties marked "S&LB" are those acquired from third parties through sales & lease-back transaction by GLP Group

Date of construction	August, 2004

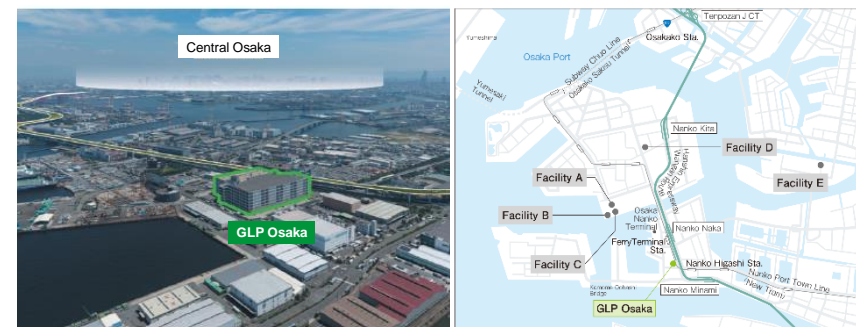

Prime location next to the nearest IC and 3 min walk from the station

- The property is located at 3 min walk from Nanko-higashi Station and is also equipped with a parking lot with 292 spaces for cars and 203 spaces for bicycles benefitting hiring and retaining workers by tenants.

Conveniently located near the station within the Osaka Nanko bay area where there are large supply of logistics facilities

Improvement of supply and demand in the Osaka bay area

Although the Osaka bay area recently experienced a temporary, large new supply of logistics facilities, causing the vacancy rate to rise significantly as a result, future development of logistics facilities in the area is limited.

From Jan. to Mar. 2018, new demand in the Osaka bay area was ca. 150,000 sqm, the highest new demand since 2015, absorbing new supply from the past two years, and a new facility was fully leased within one year of completion. Furthermore, according to CBRE, the vacancy rate of mid to large facilities in the greater Osaka¹ area 12 declined by ca. 4% from March 31, 2018 to June 30, 2018.

■ Dividend per unit excluding OPD

■ OPD per unit

Change in DPU excluding one-time effect¹

1. "One-time effect" includes un-expensed property-related taxes for newly acquired properties and asset disposal effect

2. When GLP J-REIT acquires properties, property-related taxes etc. to be charged to the properties for the year of acquisition are capitalized as a part of acquisition costs and, hence, are not be recognized as an expense. This "un-expensed real estate taxes for newly acquired properties" in this page is computed by allocating the forecasted amount of real estate taxes etc. charged in the following year of the acquisition based on holding period. All "One-time effect" in this page are un-expensed real estate taxes for newly acquired properties, except 25 yen in Fiscal Period ended February 2016 and 59 yen in Fiscal Period ended August 2017, which are asset disposal effect.

3. Asset disposal effect = Gain on sales of assets - Non-deductible portion of consumption taxes. Asset disposal effect is 25 yen in the Fiscal Period ended February 2016 and 59 yen in the Fiscal Period ended August 2017. The value for the Fiscal Period ended August 2017 includes one-time costs due to cancellation of interest rate swaps, etc.

OPD to ensure sustainable and efficient cash allocation
